Executive Summary

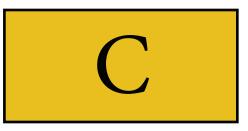

Orlando, FL - March 22, 2023

The 2022 College Sport Racial and Gender Report Card (CSRGRC) was issued today by The Institute for Diversity and Ethics in Sport (TIDES) at the University of Central Florida (UCF). The Report showed the record of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and its member institutions, excluding Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), for gender and racial hiring practices. TIDES also issued a combined grade.

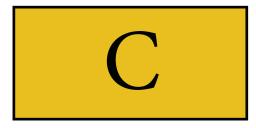

College Sport received a C for racial hiring practices by earning 73.3 points, a slight decrease from 74.4 points in the 2021 CSRGRC. College Sport received a C for gender hiring practices by earning 74.1 points, an increase from 73.8 points in the 2021 CSRGRC. The combined grade for the 2023 CSRGRC was a C with 73.7 points, down from 75.8 points in 2021.

Richard Lapchick, the Director of TIDES and the primary author of the CSRGRC, said, "College sport has historically not done well at increasing opportunities for women and people of color. Excluding HBCU institutions, the representation of women and people of color in key decision-making roles within collegiate athletics has been scarce. The 2022 CSRGRC saw a slight improvement in the racial hiring practices and a decrease in the gender hiring practices. Their overall grade also saw another reduction in comparison to 2021. College sport continues to fall short in closing the disparities in leadership in relation to their professional sport-counterparts."

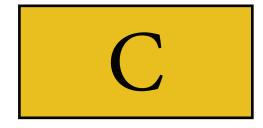

Overall Grade

Racial Hiring

Gender Hiring

As was documented in the 2022 D1 FBS Leadership College Racial and Gender Report Card, the disproportion between campus leadership and studentathletes remains a major concern in FBS institutions. The statistics tell the story: 78.6 percent of chancellors and presidents, 78.6 percent of athletic directors, 83.6 percent of faculty athletic representatives, and 80.0 percent of conference commissioners were white. That is more than 80 percent of all these key positions. Additionally, 60.3 percent of chancellors and presidents, 67.9 percent of athletic directors, 50.0 percent of faculty athletic representatives, and 70.0 percent of conference commissioners were white men."

The NCAA National Office had a B- for race in both senior leadership and professional positions and a Aand A+ for gender in senior leadership and professional administration positions, respectively. Lapchick noted that "athletic departments at the Division I, II, and III levels over the past few years have set the standard of meeting their commitment to diversity and inclusion. Many institutions of higher education fail to hire diverse leadership teams in their athletic departments. These are changes that need to be made for leadership positions at higher institutions to reflect the diversity of the studentathlete population to best serve them."

Lapchick emphasized, "White people still dominate the head coaching ranks, as 84.1 percent of Division I, 85.2 percent of Division II and 89.0 percent of Division III men's coaches were white. On the women's side, white people held 80.6 percent, 84.5 percent and 88.1 percent for head coaching positions in Divisions I, II, and III, respectively. All three divisions saw a slight decrease in white head coaches of men's and women's teams."

The representation of Black or African Americans as head coaches for all sports in Division I in 2021-2022 showed little a slight improvement but remains unacceptable. Black or African Americans held 9.9 percent, 6.6 percent, and 6.3 percent of the head coaching positions for men's teams in Divisions I, II, and III, respectively. Compared to the figures in 2021-2022 Black or African Americans coaching men's teams increased by 0.9 percent in Division I, while it increased by 0.4 percentage points and 0.4 percentage points in Division II and Division III, respectively.

White people made up 70.6 percent, 86.8 percent, and 92.8 percent of men's basketball, football, and baseball head coaching positions, respectively, in all divisions combined during the 2021-2022 season.

In men's Division I basketball, 24.8 percent of all head coaches were Black or African American. That is up 0.5 percentage points from last year. This remains 0.4 percentage points short of the all-time high of 25.2 percent reported in 2005-2006.

Overall, 29.4 percent of the Division I men's basketball head coaches were coaches of color which is an increase of 3.6 percentage points from 2020-2021. In 2021-2022, Division I men's basketball Black or African American student-athletes made up 52.4 percent, compared to the 24.8 percent of Black or African American men head coaches, but there are still no women head coaches of men's basketball teams at any NCAA level.

In 2021-2022, Division I women's basketball Black or African American student-athletes made up 39.9 percent of the total, but only 18.5 percent of the head coaches were Black or African American same as last year, and 5.2 percent were Black or African American men, an increase from last year's representation from a coaching standpoint does positively affect the student athlete's success within the classroom and on the court.

Lapchick added, "Collegiate athletics continue to struggle with including more of people of color in leadership positions. For years the demographics of student athletes in comparison to staff has been largely disproportionate. Our institutions of higher learning must improve in prioritizing Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion amongst our campuses."

Leaders should reflect who they lead. Unfortunately, in college sports the overrepresentation of white men in the key leadership positions results in a lack of opportunities for women and people of color. The numbers are not a reflection of the student-athlete body. To provide the best experience and services for student-athletes, individuals in leadership positions need to be able to relate to the student-athlete body. For collegiate athletics to thrive and grow, leaders of these institutions must embrace diversity and inclusion at a higher level. Calling Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion a campus priority is not the same as enacting it in real time.

As analyzed in the 2022 DI FBS Report Card, the number of head football coaches of color at the FBS level decreased from 23 in 2021 to 22 in 2022, with 13 of those being Black or African American. This is one less than the highest number of Black or African American Racial and Gender Report Card history, which was 14 in 2012. White men represented 109 of the 131 (83.2 percent) head coaches at the FBS level.

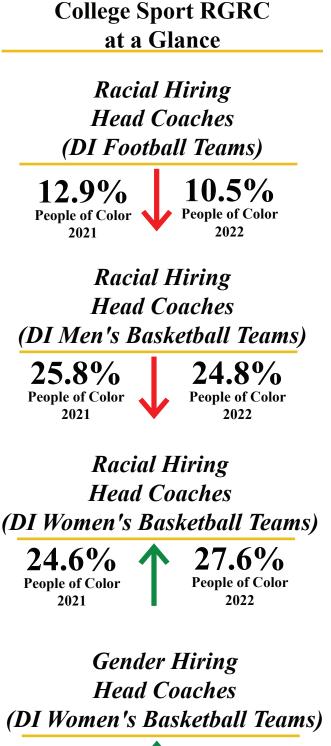

In Division I baseball, white athletes made up 78.1 percent of the student-athletes. Only 3.4 percent of Division I head baseball coaches were people of color, a 1.6 percentage point decrease from the 2021-2022 Report. This consistently low percentage indicates that diverse representation from a coaching standpoint is simply not a priority for collegiate baseball.

Overall, Division III institutions continue to show signs of improvement in terms of race and gender but still have far to go. Black or African Americans continued to be underrepresented as head coaches in Division III. The percentage of women coaching Division III men's teams was higher than the percentage of Black or African American's teams (7.0 percent vs. 6.3 percent).

Lapchick noted that "Women held only 42.0 percent of the head coaching jobs of women's teams in Division I, 35.6 percent in Division II and 43.8 percent in Division III. This marked a 0.7 percent increase, a 0.6 percent increase and a 0.6 decrease in Division I, II and III respectively from 2020-2021- to 2021-2022 Overall, women held 41.2 percent of head coaching positions for women's teams across all three divisions combined.

For assistant coaching positions, women saw slight increases in all three divisions compared to 2021 after comprising 47.4 percent, 49.8 percent, and 53.1 percent of assistant coaching positions of women's teams in Divisions I, II, and III, respectively. Across all three divisions combined, women held 50.3 percent of assistant coaching positions for women's teams.

Lapchick emphasized that "The coaching statistics in women's college sport remain the worst statistics reported by TIDES in all of the report cards we publish each year. It is appalling that more than 50 years after the passage of Title IX that women struggle to hold only 50 percent of all the assistant coaching positions and only 41.2 percent of the head coaching positions."

While it has been common practice for men to coach women's teams, it is extremely rare for a woman to coach a men's team.

The percentage of women head coaches for men's teams in Division III institutions became closer to its all-time high of 7.2 percent set in 2019-2020 by increasing to 7.0 percent in 2021-2022. That was an increase of 0.2 percent. Noting 281 women coach men's sports within Division III shows how relatively progressive the Division is in comparison to Division I and II in this regard. Although there have been slight increases from last year, women only held 4.8 percent and 5.0 percent of head coaching positions of men's teams in Divisions I and II, respectively.

White people dominated the athletic director positions in Divisions I, II, and III holding 78.9 percent, 90.4 percent, and 89.4 percent of positions, respectively. White men occupied 68.2 percent, 67.5 percent, and 60.9 percent in Divisions I, II, and III, respectively. While the numbers remain disproportionately low, women gained ground in Division II and III. For women, they represented 15.0 percent of Division I athletics directors, an increase of 1.0 percent from 2020-2021. Women held 25.0 percent of the athletic director positions in Division II and 33.3 percent in Division III, increasing by 0.8 percent and 0.3 percent, respectively.

The 2021-2022 Report notes nine women and seven people of color as conference commissioners in all of Division I out of 30 conferences. However, in the FBS there remained only one woman serving as commissioner and two commissioners of color out of ten conferences. The two Black or African American FBS commissioners appointed three years ago was a significant breakthrough. However, in January 2023, the Chicago Bears hired Kevin Warren as their President after he had been Commissioner of the Big Ten. Gloria Nevarez was also appointed to be the commissioner of the Mountain West Conference in November of 2022, making her the first woman of color to hold an FBS Conference Commissioner office.

Every year, the NCAA updates their NCAA Demographics Database which includes self-reported data from active NCAA member schools via the NCAA Sport Sponsorship and Demographic forms given to each school to complete. Once the data is collected, it is then aggregated and filtered into various categories among both professional staff and the student athlete population. This data is used to examine the racial and gender demographics of NCAA head and assistant coaches, athletics directors, associate and assistant athletics directors, senior woman administrators, academic advisors, compliance coordinators and managers for business development, fundraising, facilities, marketing, ticket sales, media relations and an array of assistants and support staff.

The 2022 College Sport Racial and Gender Report Card featured updated racial and gender personnel data at the NCAA National Office, university presidents, athletics directors, coaching demographics within prominent Division I sports (basketball, football, baseball), administrative staff throughout all athletic divisions, and faculty athletics representatives at the 131 institutions in the Division I Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS). There are also updated sections pertaining to conference commissioners and NCAA student-athletes throughout all divisions. The data utilized to update the 2022 Report Card sections were collected from several sources, including a NCAA Demographics Database provided by the NCAA National Office. The 2022 data represents NCAA national office staff demographics as of October 1, 2022 that included data from the 2021-2022 academic year, the Division I FBS Campus Leadership Study published by TIDES in February 2023 titled The 2022

"College sport offers far more career opportunities compared to those in the professional sports space. With more jobs available, there is no excuse for the lack of positions currently held by women and people of color. What we have done in the past is simply not good enough. It is vital that we create new avenues to provide women and people of color the opportunity to flourish within collegiate athletic administrative positions." - Dr. Richard Lapchick

Racial and Gender Report Card: D1 FBS Leadership, self-reported demographic data from NCAA National Office personnel as of October 1, 2022 and information contained in previous studies by TIDES. In all cases regarding employment in college athletics, the data reported throughout the 2022 College Sport Racial and Gender Report Card excluded Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs).

It is important to note that the omission of Historically Black Colleges and Universities within this Report is not to further the exclusion of these institutions, but rather to highlight the disproportionate hiring practices reflected across college sports. Notably, HBCU athletic departments have high percentages of both ethnic minorities and women. If these institutions were accounted for within this Report, the data would be skewed—and ultimately misleading and ineffective. Tables for the College Sport Racial and Gender Report Card are included in Appendix III.

Lapchick noted that, "The number of career opportunities provided to those in college sport is far more than what is offered in the professional sports space. With more jobs available, there is no excuse for the lack of positions currently held by women and people of color. What we have done in the past is simply not good enough. It is vital that we become innovative in our strategies to allow women and people of color the opportunity to flourish within collegiate athletic administrative positions."

TIDES strives to emphasize the value of diversity within athletic departments when they choose their office leadership teams in their office environments. Initiatives such as diversity and inclusion management training can help change attitudes and increase the applicant pool for open positions. While it is the choice of the institution regarding which applicant is the best fit for their department, TIDES intends to illustrate the importance of having a diverse and inclusive organization with different races and/or genders. This element of diversity can provide a different perspective and ultimately a competitive advantage in the executive offices and on the athletic fields of play. The Report was authored by TIDES Director, Dr. Richard Lapchick, with significant contributions from Asia Ervin, Lydia Franks, Dara Gregory, Jatasia Johnson, Allison Kula, Kennady Oliver, Zakary Smiley, Andy Smith, Abraham Wade and David Zimmerman.

In addition, College sport had these social justice initiatives: Accelerating Academic Success Program, providing opportunities for learning is at the heart of the NCAA's mission, and the Association holds schools accountable for the academic success of student-athletes by tracking academic progress. Disability Guide, in November 2022 the NCAA office of inclusion released its disability guide, a three-part resource to support student-athletes with disabilities. Featuring sections on "Defining Disability," "Language Can Impact How Your Athletes Perform" and "Access and Accommodations for Student-Athletes With Disabilities," the disability guide highlights information on what it means for someone to have a disability, the importance and impact of using inclusive language, and guidance on how to ensure student-athletes with disabilities have access and reasonable accommodations to excel academically, athletically and in all aspects of their collegiate experience. Eight-Point Plan To Advance Racial Equity, a train-the-trainer program, Champions of Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Belonging (DEIB) was created in 2022. The Association engages and recognizes community and social justice efforts through the NCAA Legends and Legacy Awards, hosted during Men's and Women's Final Four events.

The Institute for Diversity and Ethics in Sport (TIDES), located at the University of Central Florida (UCF), publishes the Racial and Gender Report Card annually to indicate areas of improvement, stagnation, and regression in the racial and gender composition of professional and college sports personnel and to contribute to the improvement of integration in front office and college athletic department positions. The publication of the 2022 College Racial and Gender Report Card follows the publication of the reports on the National Basketball Association (NBA), Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA), Major League Baseball (MLB), Major League Soccer (MLS), and National Football League (NFL), and the 2022 D1 FBS Leadership College Racial and Gender Report Card. The Complete 2022 Racial and Gender Report Card will be published later this year.

Coaching

- In 2021-2022, white people dominated the head coaching ranks on men's sports holding 84.1 percent, 85.2 percent, and 89.0 percent of all head coaching positions in Divisions I, II, and III, respectively. In 2020-2021, white head coaches held 85.3 percent, 86.0 percent, and 89.6 percent in Divisions I, II, and III, respectively.
- In 2021-2022, the percentage of Black or African Americans as head coaches in men's sports held 9.0 percent, 5.9 percent, and 5.7 percent. This is a slight increase compared to 2020-2021 when Black or African American held 8.2 percent, 5.7 percent, and 5.5 percent.
- In 2021-2022, white people held 80.6 percent, 84.5 percent, and 88.1 percent of the women's head coaching positions in Divisions I, II, and III. Compared to 2020-2021 when white people held 82.1 percent, 84.9 percent, and 88.7 percent in Divisions I, II, and III.
- In 2021-2022, Black or African American people held 10.2 percent, 6.4 percent, and 6.3 percent of the women's head coaching positions in Divisions I, II, and III, respectively. In 2020-2021 Black or African American head coaches held 8.8 percent, 5 percent, and 5.7 percent in Divisions I, II, and III, respectively.
- In men's Division I basketball, 24.8 percent of all head coaches were Black or African American, which was an increase of 0.5 percentage points from 2020-2021. It was 0.4 percentage points from the all-time high of 25.2 percent reported in 2005-2006. In all, 29.4 percent of the Division I men's basketball coaches were coaches of color. In women's Division I basketball, 23.7 percent of all head coaches were Black or African American.. Overall 27.7 percent of the Division I women's basketball coaches were coaches of color. This is still a major area of concern when reviewing the Racial and Gender Report Card.
- In men's Division I football, 13.2 percent of head coaches were people of color, which was an increase of 1.3 percentage points from 2020-2021. White coaches held 86.8 percent of Division I football head coaching positions, while Black or African Americans were 8.5 percent, Hispanic/Latinos were 2.1 percent, Hawaiians and Pacific Islanders were 1.3 percent. There was no representation of American Indians or Alaska Natives in these positions. There were no Asian head football coaches. Finally, 0.4 percent identified as Two or More Races and 0.9 percent identified as Unknown. In addition to men's and women's Division I basketball, this area of the Racial and Gender Report Card is also cause for concern.

- Only 7.2 percent of Division I head baseball coaches were people of color; 4.0 percent were Hispanic/Latino, 1.1 percent were Black or African American, 0.4 percent were American Indian/Alaskan Native, 0.7 percent identified as Two or More Races, and 1.1 percent classified as Unknown.
- More than 50 years after the passage of Title IX, women were not even close to holding most coaching opportunities in women's sports. Women only held 42.0 percent of the head coaching jobs for women's sports in Division I, which was a 0.7 percentage point increase from 2020-2021. Women held 35.6 percent of the head coaching jobs for women's sports in Division II, which was an increase of 0.3 percentage points from 2020-2021. Women held 43.8 percent of the head coaching jobs for women's sports in Division II, which decreased 0.6 percentage points from 2020-2021.
- Women head coaches in Division I women's basketball increased from 64.4 percent in 2020-2021 to 65.8 percent in 2021-2022. Women holding head coaching positions in cross country, indoor track and outdoor track at the Division I level increased from 19.3 percent in 2020-2021 to 20.5 percent in 2021-2022. In all other women's sports at the Division I level, women held 47.9 percent of head coaching positions compared to the 52.0 percent held by men.
- In 2021-2022, Division I women's basketball Black or African American student-athletes made up 39.9 percent of the total, but Black and African American women only held 18.5 percent of head coaching positions while Black or African American and men held 5.2 percent, for a combined percentage of 23.7 percent. As in football and men's basketball, this does not compare to the representation of Black or African American women's basketball student-athletes in 2021-2022

- In 2021-2022, women held 4.8, 5.0, and 7.0 percent of head coaching positions for men's teams across Divisions I, II, and III, respectively.
- Of the total assistant coaching positions held on men's teams in Divisions I, II, and III during 2021-2022, white assistant coaches represented 66.6 percent, 70.1 percent, and 80.8 respectively.

It is important to note that the omission of Historically Black Colleges and Universities within this Report is not to further the exclusion of these institutions, but rather to highlight the disproportionate hiring practices reflected across college sports. Notably, HBCU athletic departments have high percentages of both ethnic minorities and women. If these institutions were accounted for within this Report, the data would be skewed—and ultimately misleading and ineffective.

Grades by Category

Conference Commissioners

NCAA National Office

The 2022 NCAA National Office demographic data was supplied by NCAA Human Resources staff and was compared to data collected from the NCAA for 2021. The 2022 data represents NCAA national office staff demographics as of February 28, 2023.

At the NCAA National Office, the number of people of color in positions of executive vice president, senior vice president and vice president remained the same as in 2021 with four. The number of women also stayed the same with seven. Out of this group, Black or African American individuals were the only people of color to hold these positions in 2022. In the 20 years of data the NCAA national office has provided to TIDES, only white and African American individuals have held these positions.

*The data is current as of February 28,2023 as submitted by NCAA Human Resources.

The four Black or African Americans represented in the executive/vice president role at the NCAA Office were:

- Stanley "Stan" Wilcox, Executive Vice President of Regulatory Affairs
- Felicia Martin, Senior Vice President of Inclusion, Education and Community Engagement
- Mario Morris, Chief Financial Officer of Administrative Services
- Derrick Crawford, Vice President of Hearing Operations

The seven women represented in the executive/vice president role were:

Women accounted for 47.2 percent of the positions in this role category in 2022, a decrease from 51.6 percent in last year's Report. White people occupied 75.0 percent of director positions in 2022, which decreased by 4.6 percentage points from the 2021 Report. Black or African Americans represented 13.0 percent of the positions in 2022, which decreased by 2.1 percentage points from 2021. The 2022 data showed that there were two Hispanic/Latino(a) directors on staff, which was an increase of one more from last year's Report Card. There were three Asians in managing director/ director positions, which remains unchanged from 2021, and eight multiracial individuals, which was an increase of seven from the 2021 report.

For the category of professional administrator positions, the total percentage of people of color increased from 23.5 percent in 2021 to 25.5 percent in 2022. It should be noted that these statistics were a snapshot in time for the NCAA. Over the last year there has been a lot of movement at the NCAA due to the conclusion of the pandemic hiring shortage. As a result, there is some fluctuation that occurs based upon the time when staff are starting or departing.

Racial Hiring Grade for NCAA Senior Leadership

See Tables 1, 2, 3, and 4.

Division I Head Coaches*

Various sports are studied on an individual basis for men's and women's head coaching positions. This can help to obtain a balanced view of coaching positions throughout college sports. The College Sport Racial and Gender Report Card examines head coaching percentages in men's football, basketball, baseball, and women's basketball, cross-country and indoor/outdoor track programs.

Men's Teams

In 2021-2022, white coaches still dominated, holding 84.1 percent, 85.2 percent, and 89.0 percent of all head coaching positions in Divisions I, II, and III, respectively, within men's sports. Division I Black or African American head coaches increased from 9.0 percent to 9.9 percent in 2021-2022. Hispanic/Latino(a) s held 1.8 percent of head coaching positions for men's teams during 2021-2022 which is a decrease of 0.3 percentage points from last year's report. Asians held 0.7 percent of the head coaching positions for men's teams, a 0.1 percent increase from last year's report. Hawaiian/Pacific Islanders represented 0.1 percent in 2021-2022, the same as in 2020-2021. There was no American Indian and Alaskan Native representation was nonexistent, with a 0.0 percent representation in 2020-2021 but increased to 0.1 percent in 2021-2022. People of Two or More Races, Non-Resident Aliens, and those classified as Unknown combined to make up 1.1 percent, 1.0 percent, and 1.2 percent of head coaches for DI men's teams, respectively. These figures accounted for men and women working as head coaches of men's teams.

The percentage of women serving as head coaches of men's teams in Division I was 4.8 percent, an increase of 0.3 percentage points from last year's report.

Men's Basketball

A persistent area of concern for the Racial and Gender Report Card is the Black or African American coaching presence in men's Division I basketball. We have seen trends for this group increase and decrease ever so slightly year by year, but these numbers are still not where they need to be an appropriate representation of coaches within the game compared to the representation of student-athletes.

For 2021-2022, 24.8 percent of the men's Division I basketball coaches were Black or African American and 29.4 percent were coaches of color. The all-time high was in 2005-2006, when 25.2 percent of all head coaches were Black or African American. The all-time low since college sport became a subject of the RGRC is this year in 2021-2022.

White coaches made up 70.6 percent of head coaching positions, while Asians, Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders combined to make up 0.3 percent, Hispanic/Latino(a) s were 1.2 percent, and American Indians or Alaskan Natives were 0.3 percent of those positions. Finally, 1.4 percent identified as Two or More Races and 1.2 percent identified as Unknown.

Men's Football

Another area that is a cause for concern is Division I football head coaches. Like basketball, there is a lack of appropriate representation of football coaches that align with the student-athlete representation. In 2022, 13.2 percent were coaches of color, which was an increase of 0.3 percentage points from 2021. White coaches made up 86.8 percent of head coaching positions, while Black or African Americans were 8.5 percent, Asians, Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders combined to make up 1.3 percent, Hispanic/Latino(a)s were 2.1 percent, and American Indians or Alaskan Natives were 0.0 percent of those positions. Finally, 0.4 percent identified as Two or More Races and 0.9 percent identified as Unknown. It should be noted that the percentage of head coaches of color in the 131 FBS schools declined. There were 22 (16.8 percent) coaches of color in 2022, which was a 2.4 percent decrease from 2021.

Men's Baseball

Only 7.2 percent of Division I baseball coaches were people of color in 2021-2022. Hispanic/ Latino(a)s comprised 4.0 percent, Black or African Americans comprised 1.1 percent, Two or More Races comprised 0.7 percent. There were 1.1 percent of Division I baseball coaches classified as Unknown. White coaches made up 92.8 percent of head coaching positions.

Women's Teams

More than 50 years after the passage of Title IX, it too often remains common practice for men to coach women's teams. The percentage of women coaching women's teams remained far from being acceptable in Division I. In the case of head coaches for women's teams, it should be expected that women would hold at least half of these positions. Therefore, in that category, 60 percent would earn an A+, 57 percent would earn an A, 52 percent would earn a B+, 49 percent would earn a B, 44 percent would earn a C+, 43 percent would earn a C, and 40 percent would earn a D+, 38 percent would earn a D, anything below that would be an F.

In 2021-2022, women held 42.0 percent of head coaching positions at the Division I level for women's sports, while they only held 4.9 percent of the head coaching positions at the Division I level for men sports. Both increasing 0.9 and 0.4 percentage points more than the report's findings in 2020-2021. This remains an unacceptable portion of the positions so many years after the passage of Title IX.

Women head coaches in Division I women's basketball increased from 64.4 percent in 2020-2021 to 66.0 percent in 2021-2022. Women holding head coaching positions in cross-country, indoor track and outdoor track at the Division I level increased from 18.0 percent in 2020-2021 to 20.0 percent in 2021-2022.

White people continued to dominate the head coaching positions in women's sports in Division I overall, holding 80.6 percent of head coaching positions, a 1.6 percentage point decrease in representation from last year.

In 2021-2022, Black or African Americans held 10.2 percent, Hispanic/Latino(a)s held 2.2 percent, Asians held 1.6 percent. Hawaiian/Pacific Islanders held 0.3 percent, and American Indian and Alaskan Native representation was again minimal with 0.2 percent of the head coaching opportunities in Division I women's sports. Those identifying as Two or More Races, Non-Resident Aliens, and Unknown represented 1.5 percent, 1.8 percent, and 1.7 percent of these head coaching positions, respectively. These figures accounted for men and women working as head coaches of women's teams.

Women's Basketball

Women's head basketball coaching positions held by white coaches in Division I in 2021-2022 was 72.3 percent, a decrease from 2020-2021 of 2.4 percentage points. White men holding the same position also decreased from 29.8 percent in 2020-2021 to 27.7 percent in 2021-2022.

Black or African American women held 18.5 percent and men held 5.2 percent in 2021-2022, totaling 23.7 percent of head coaching positions within Division I women's basketball held by Black or African Americans, a small increase of 0.6 percentage points.

There were two Asian coaches, one male and one female head coach, three Hispanic/Latino coaches, two male one female, these combined to make up 1.5 percent of all head coaches in Division I women's basketball in 2021-2022. This data stands in stark contrast to the 40.7 percent of student-athletes playing Division I women's basketball who were Black or African American.

Women's Cross Country/Track

The highest percentage of head coaching positions held by people of color in women's college sport was found in the Division I cross country/track category. Division I College Associate and Assistant Athletics Directors

As in all cases regarding employment in college athletics, the data reported on associate and assistant athletics directors, senior woman administrators and faculty athletics representatives excludes HBCUs.

This senior administrative category includes both the associate and assistant athletics director positions. These positions are thought of as the pipeline to the athletics director position. People in both positions work very closely with the athletics director and they are often training grounds for future athletics directors. In the hierarchy of power, associate athletics directors are above assistant athletics directors. Although these are two separate positions, the demographic make-up of each slot is strikingly similar at the Division I level.

In Division I, the gender breakdown was similar between associate and assistant athletics directors. Associate athletics directors were 67.2 percent men and 32.8 percent were women in Division I and assistant athletics directors were 68.3 percent men and 31.7 percent women in Division I in 2021-2022. This compared to 2020-2021 when associate athletics directors were 67.6 percent men and 32.4 percent women in Division I and assistant athletics directors were 66.9 percent men and 33.1 percent women in Division I.

Associate Athletics Directors

The representation of people of color in Division I at the associate athletics director position has increased slightly from 2020-2021 to 2021-2022. In 2021-2022, white people held 82.3 percent of the total positions. In 2021-2022, Black or African Americans held 11.4 percent of the associate athletics director positions in Division I, an increase from 10.0 percent in 2020-2021. In 2021-2022, Hispanic/Latino(a)s, held 2.7 percent of the associate athletics director positions I, compared to 2.4 percent in 2020-2021. Asians, American Indian or Alaska Native, and Hawaiians/Pacific Islanders held 1.1 percent, 0.2 percent, and 0.3 percent, respectively. In 2021-2022 associate athletics director classified as Two or More Races held 0.8 percent, which is a decrease of 0.2

percent from 2020-2021. In 2021-2022, those classified as Unknown held 1.1 percent, an increase of 0.1 percent from 2020-2021.

The percentage of women in Division I who held associate athletics director positions increased from 32.4 percent in 2020-2021 to 32.8 percent in 2021-2022.

Assistant Athletics Director

At the assistant athletics director position in 2021-2022, representation for people of color decreased by 0.7 percentage points in Division I. Black or African Americans held 9.2 percent, an increase from 8.7 percent in 2020-2021. Hispanic/Latino(a)s, Asians, Hawaiians/ Pacific Islanders, and American Indians or Alaskan Natives held 2.5 percent, 1.3 percent, 0.3 percent, and 0.1 percent of the Division I assistant athletics director positions, respectively, in 2021-2022. This was compared to 2020-2021 when Hispanic/Latino(a) s, Asians, Hawaiians/Pacific Islanders, and American Indians or Alaskan Natives held 2.8 percent, 1.3 percent, 0.2 percent, and 0.2 percent of the Division I assistant athletics director positions, respectively. In 2021-2022 assistant athletics directors classified as Two or More Races held 1.7 percent of the positions, compared to 1.6 percent in 2020-2021. In 2021-2022 Assistant athletics directors classified as Unknown held 1.1 percent of the positions, a decrease from 2.4 percent in 2020-2021.

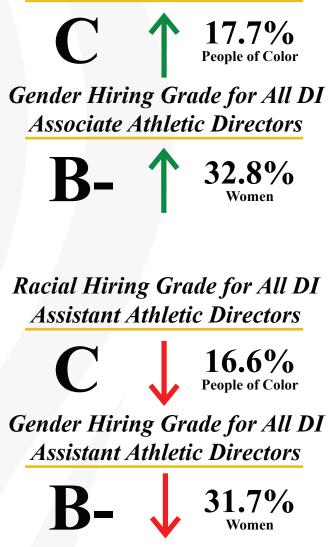

In 2021-2022, Division I saw a decrease in the representation of women at the assistant athletics director position. Women held 31.7 percent of the assistant athletic director positions in Division I, compared to 33.1 percent in 2020-2021.

Senior Woman Administrators

As in all cases regarding employment in college athletics, the data reported on associate and assistant athletics directors, senior woman administrators and faculty athletics representatives excludes HBCUs.

The senior woman administrator (SWA) is a significant position within an athletic department. The SWA is the highest-ranking woman in each NCAA athletics department or conference office, helping to promote meaningful representation of women within leadership positions throughout member institutions. Voted on by the membership in 1981, the SWA designation was added while women's championships were added to ensure adequate gender involvement in such an industry dominated by men.

White women continued to dominate the position in 2021-2022 with 78.9 percent in Division I. This is a slight decrease of 0.1 percent from 2020-2021 when they held 79.0 percent. Despite changes being implemented, the racial diversity of SWA positions remains low.

In Division I, Black or African American women held 15.5 percent of the SWA positions, Hispanic/Latina women held 1.8 percent, Asian women held 2.0 percent, Two or More Races held 0.6 percent, International women held 0.3 percent and Unknown held 0.6 percent. Hawaiian/Pacific Islands and American Indian/Alaska Native had no representation.

Overall, women of color occupied 20.8 percent of the SWA positions in 2021-2022 within Division I compared to 2020-2021 when they held 20.1 percent.

Faculty Athletics Representatives

As in all cases regarding employment in college athletics, the data reported on associate and assistant athletics directors, senior woman administrators and faculty athletics representatives excludes HBCUs.

The FAR is a representative of the university on issues regarding athletics. The FAR is usually appointed by the president and is not only involved with ensuring academic integrity of the athletic programs, but also maintaining the welfare of the student-athlete. The NCAA requires each of its member institutions to appoint a FAR who must be on faculty and administrative staff and may not hold a position within the athletics department in any capacity. This role could include professors and other non-athletic department personnel.

White people continued to hold most of the faculty athletics representative (FAR) positions in 2021-2022 with 85.0 percent, 89.0 percent, and 92.8 percent in Divisions I, II, and III, respectively. Women held 38.1 percent, 31.7 percent, and 39.6 percent of the FAR positions in 2021-2022 in Divisions I, II, and III.

In Division I, the racial diversity of the FAR position continued to be minimal. Black or African Americans held 9.4 percent of FAR positions in 2021-2022, an increase from the 8.1 percent in 2020-2021. Hispanic/Latino(a) s held 1.5 percent, a 0.3 percentage point decrease from last year, while Asians held 0.9 percent, Hawaiians/ Pacific Islanders held 0.6 percent, American Indians or Alaskan Natives held 0.3 percent, and Two or More Races held 0.6 percent in Division I for 2021-2022, while those classified as Unknown held 1.8 percent. In 2021-2022, women held 38.1 percent of the FAR positions, up from 35.9 percent in 2020-2021. White women held the greatest percentage of these positions with white women holding 31.3 percent of these positions. In Division I, Black or African American women held 4.4 percent, Asian women held 0.3 percent, and American Indian or Alaskan Natives held 0.3 percent. Those identifying as Hawaiian or Pacific Islander held 0.3 percent and Two or More Races held 0.3 percent as well. Those identifying as Unknown comprised 1.2 percent of positions.

Sports Information Directors

The Sports Information Director (SID) plays a critical role in directing the media's attention to studentathletes, coaches and teams including but not limited to coordinating communications between local/national media and the athletics department, providing updates on player/team information, and composing various stories within each sports program in the athletic department.

The sports information director position continues to be one of the least diverse positions in all of college sport. In 2021-2022, 90.1 percent of the SIDs in Division I were white, which is a decrease of 1.3 points from last year. This is critical because the sports information director is usually the key decision make publicized content, including what and who among coaches and studentathletes are talked about.

Among the SIDs, 2.2 percent were Black or African American, 2.8 percent were Hispanic/Latino(a)s, 1.4 percent were Asian, 1.6 percent were Two or More Races, 0.4 percent were Internationals, and 1.6 percent were Unknown.

Women held 17.3 percent of the sports information director positions in 2020-2021 which was a 0.1 percent decrease from the last year's Report.

Professional Administration

This category includes a wide range of job descriptions. At NCAA member institutions, jobs that fit in this category are academic advisor/counselor, compliance coordinator/ officer, sports information director and assistant directors, strength coaches, life skills coordinators, and managers for business, equipment, fundraiser/development, facilities, promotions/marketing and tickets. As in all cases regarding employment in college athletics, the data reported in this section excludes HBCUs. These positions are often starting points from which many people rise to higher level positions within a university or athletic department. All of these roles are vital to the success of athletic departments throughout the NCAA membership, as they provide support to athletic department leadership and provide equitable representation across the college sport decision making platform.

This Report shows opportunities for people of color serving in professional administration positions have decreased in Division I while they remained almost the same for women.

In 2021-2022 white people continued to dominate administration professional category the bv holding 80.1 percent of all professional administration positions in Division I, up from 79.3 percent in the last report. Black or African American people held 9.4 percent, down from 10.3 percent, Hispanic/Latino(a) s held 3.8 percent down from 3.9 percent, Asians held 1.3 percent down from 1.4 percent, Hawaiians/ Pacific Islanders held 0.3 percent up from 0.2 percent, and American Indian or Alaskan Native representation was 0.2 percent. Those identifying as Two or More Races, Non-Resident Aliens, and Unknown represented 1.5 percent up from 1.4 percent, 0.3 percent up from 0.2 percent, and 3.1 percent, down from 3.5 percent of these positions, respectively.

In 2021-2022 women accounted for 34.9 percent of all professional administration positions compared to 34.8 percent in 2020-2021.

Women were especially well represented in the positions of academic advisor/counselor, life skills coordinator, business manager, and compliance coordinator/officer. In the academic advisor/counselor position, women held 62.2 percent of the positions at Division I institutions, a decrease from last year. Within the life skills coordinator position, women held 70.2 percent of the positions at Division I institutions, a decrease from last year. In the business manager position, women held 61.0 percent of the positions at Division I institutions, an increase from last year. The compliance coordinator/officer also had a strong representation of women at the Division I level holding 53.5 percent of the positions up from 47.9 percent.

NCAA Diversity Initiatives

College Sport continues to be one of the industry leaders with their diversity initiatives for leadership, administrators, and student-athletes alike. The Leadership Development department at the NCAA National Office continues to put forward programming that challenges and encourages growth for all individuals involved. All the initiatives put forth by the NCAA National Office can be found in Appendix I.

How Grades Were Calculated

The 2022 College Racial and Gender Report Card data showed that college athletics departments' hiring practices do not nearly reflect the number of student-athletes of color competing on their teams. However, to give it perspective for sports fans, The Institute issues the grades in relation to overall patterns in society. Federal affirmative action policies state the workplace should reflect the percentage of the people in the racial group in the population. When TIDES first published the Racial and Gender Report Card in the late 1980s, approximately 24 percent of the population was comprised of people of color. Thus, an A was achieved if 24 percent of the positions were held by people of color, B if 12 percent of the positions were held by people of color, C if it had 9 percent, a D if it was at least 6 percent and F for anything below 6 percent.

Starting with the 2022 Racial and Gender Report Card series, TIDES will use the 2020 Census data. According to the data, racial ethnic minorities totaled 42.2 percent.

The following chart shows the current scale used for 2022 Racial and Gender Report Cards. For issues of race, an A would be earned if 35.1 percent of the employees were people of color, B for 21.6 percent, C for 17.1 percent, D for 9.1 percent, and F for anything below 9.0 percent. For issues of gender, an A would be earned if 42.5 percent of the employees were women, B for 34.0 percent, C for 36.5 percent, D for 20.0 percent and F for anything below 19.9 percent.

A	35.1-39.9	A	42.5-45.9
A-	32.1-35.0	A-	40.1-42.4
B+	29.1-32.0	B+	37.5-40.0
В	26.1-29.0	В	34.0-37.4
B-	23.1-26.0	B-	31.5-33.9
C+	20.1-23.0	C+	29.0-31.4
С	17.1-20.0	С	26.5-28.9
C-	14.1-17.0	C-	24.0-26.4
D+	11.1-14.0	D+	21.5-23.9
D	9.1-11.0	D	20.0-21.4
F	9.0 & below	F	19.9 and below

This is the scale used based on the 2010 Census as modified to reflect the growth of the population of people of color between 2010 and 2020.

However, in the case of women's head and assistant coaches of women's teams, it should be expected as a minimum that women hold at least half of the positions. Thus, in that category, 60 percent earned an A+, 52 percent would earn a B+, 44 percent earned a C+ and 40 percent would earn a D+.

In the case of women as student-athletes, 50 percent earned an A+, 45 percent a B+, and 40 percent a C+.

The Institute once again acknowledges that even those sports where grades are low generally have better records on race and gender than society.

Methodology

All data were self-reported by NCAA member institutions to the NCAA National Office and were then shared with the research team at The Institute for Diversity and Ethics in Sport (TIDES) at the University of Central Florida's DeVos Sport Business Management Program.

The Institute's research team also gathered data from the FBS schools for presidents, athletics directors, football coaches and faculty athletics representatives, as listed from the 2022 DI FBS Leadership College Racial and Gender Report Card.

It is important to note that the omission of Historically Black Colleges and Universities within this Report is not to further the exclusion of these institutions, but rather to highlight the disproportionate hiring practices reflected across college sports. Notably, HBCU athletic departments have high percentages of both ethnic minorities and women. If these institutions were accounted for within this Report, the data would be skewed—and ultimately misleading and ineffective.

It is important to note that the racial categories of Asian and Native Hawaiian/Pacific Islander were separated into their own categories. The category of Native American has been updated for this year to reflect American Indian/Alaska Native. The category of Latino(a) has been updated to include the Hispanic category. These are the U.S. federal race and ethnicity designations used by the NCAA in its Demographics Database.

After evaluating the data, the report text was drafted and compared changes to statistics from previous years. The report draft was then sent to the NCAA National Office to be reviewed for accuracy.

The report covers the 2021-2022 academic year depending upon the availability of data for each position. Listings of presidents, athletics directors, conference commissioners, associate commissioners and head coaches in Football Bowl Subdivision were updated as of October 2022.

About the Racial and Gender Report Card

The Racial and Gender Report Card (RGRC) is the definitive assessment of hiring practices of women and people of color in most of the leading professional and amateur sports and sporting organizations in the United States. The report considers the composition – assessed by racial and gender makeup – of players, coaches and front office/ athletic department employees in our country's leading sports organizations, including the National Basketball Association (NBA), the National Football League (NFL), Major League Baseball (MLB), Major League Soccer (MLS) and the Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA), as well as in collegiate athletics departments.

The Racial and Gender Report Card is published by The Institute for Diversity and Ethics in Sport, which is part of the College of Business Administration at the University of Central Florida (UCF) in Orlando. Dr. Richard Lapchick has authored all reports, first at Northeastern University and now at UCF. (Until 1998, the report was known as the Racial Report Card.) In addition to Dr. Lapchick, Asia Ervin, Lydia Franks, Dara Gregory, Jatasia Johnson, Allison Kula, Kennady Oliver, Zakary Smiley, Andy Smith, Abraham Wade and David Zimmerman. contributed greatly to the completion of this year's College Racial and Gender Report Card.

The Institute for Diversity and Ethics in Sport (TIDES)

The Institute for Diversity and Ethics in Sport ("TIDES" or the "Institute") serves as a comprehensive resource for issues related to gender and race in amateur, collegiate and professional sport. The Institute researches and publishes a variety of studies, including annual studies of student-athlete graduation rates and racial attitudes in sport as well as the internationally recognized Racial and Gender Report Card, an assessment of hiring practices in professional and college sport. The Institute also monitors some of the critical ethical issues in college and professional sport, including the potential for exploitation of student-athletes, gambling, performance-enhancing drugs and violence in sport.

The Institute's founder and director is Dr. Richard Lapchick, a scholar, author and internationally recognized human rights activist and pioneer for racial equality who is acknowledged as an expert on sports issues. Described as "the racial conscience of sport," Lapchick was the founder of the DeVos Sport Business Management Program in the College of Business Administration at UCF, where The Institute is located. In addition, Dr. Lapchick serves as President of the Institute for Sport and Social Justice (ISSJ), which uses the power of sport to affect positive social change while focusing sports organizations and athletes on issues such as diversity, equity, and inclusion, conflict resolution and men's violence against women. It was formerly known as the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS).

DeVos Sport Business Management Program College of Business Administration, University of

Central Florida

The DeVos Sport Business Management Program is a landmark program focusing on business skills necessary for graduates to conduct successful careers in the rapidly changing and dynamic sports industry, while also emphasizing diversity, community service and social issues in sport. It offers a dualdegree option, allowing students to earn a Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree in addition to the Master of Sport Business Management (MSBM) degree. The program was funded by a gift from the Richard and Helen DeVos Foundation and RDV Sports, with matching funds from the State of Florida.

NCAA INCLUSION INITIATIVES

NCAA Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Information The NCAA has a long history of supporting diversity, equity and inclusion for its member administrators, coaches, faculty and student-athletes through educational programs, policies and various initiatives. The Association also has committed significant resources to funding grants, to the professional development of minorities and women, and for postgraduate scholarship support for former studentathletes pursuing careers in athletics.

Inclusive strategies have a direct tie to NCAA principles. Strategies include developing a culture that recognizes and values diversity's role in organizational excellence and in providing outstanding service to the higher education community and studentathletes. Having an inclusive culture is imperative, as it represents a shift from viewing diversity only as a metric, to encouraging inclusion as an important value in the leadership and decision-making processes.

The NCAA Board of Governors adopted a framework for inclusion in 2010 to guide the Association's efforts. This statement was amended by the Board of Governors in 2017:

As a core value, the NCAA believes in and is committed to diversity, inclusion and gender equity among its student-athletes, coaches and administrators. We seek to establish and maintain an inclusive culture that fosters equitable participation for student-athletes and career opportunities for coaches and administrators from diverse backgrounds. Diversity and inclusion improve the learning environment for all studentathletes and enhance excellence within the Association.

The NCAA will provide or enable programming and education, which sustains foundations of a diverse and inclusive culture across dimensions of diversity including, but not limited to age, race, sex, class, creed, educational background, religion, gender identity, disability, gender expression, geographical location, income, marital status, parental status, sexual orientation and work experiences. Programming and education also will strive to support equitable laws and practices, increase opportunities for individuals from historically underrepresented groups to participate in intercollegiate athletics at all levels, and enhance hiring practices for all athletics personnel to facilitate more inclusive leadership in intercollegiate athletics.

To further emphasize the importance of diversity, inclusion and gender equity, NCAA members approved a new NCAA Constitution for the Association in 2022. The two principles that point specifically to diversity, inclusion and gender equity affirm:

The Association is committed to diversity, equity and inclusion. The Association, divisions, conferences and member institutions shall create diverse and inclusive environments and shall provide education and training with respect to the creation of such environments and an atmosphere of respect for and sensitivity to the dignity of every person. The Association, divisions, conferences and member institutions shall commit to promoting diversity and inclusion in athletics activities and events, hiring practices, professional and coaching relationships, leadership and advancement opportunities.

The Association is committed to gender equity. Activities of the Association, its divisions, conferences and member institutions shall be conducted in a manner free of gender bias. Divisions, conferences and member institutions shall commit to preventing gender bias in athletics activities and events, hiring practices, professional and coaching relationships, leadership and advancement opportunities.

With its long-standing focus on a commitment to nurturing and encouraging diversity and inclusion, the NCAA also has been vocal during the ongoing racial and social justice movements, and the Association bases much of its strategy around its Eight-Point Plan To Advance Racial Equity. The NCAA also continues to review and implement several recommendations from its external gender equity review that was conducted in 2021. Furthermore, the NCAA is committed to providing equitable experiences for all student-athletes competing at NCAA championships. The NCAA inclusion, education and community engagement division is leading ongoing inclusive and equitable efforts in the Association and at the national office. IECE is composed of the office of inclusion, leadership development (education) and community engagement. Working with IECE to specifically address diversity, equity and inclusion are the Committee on Women's Athletics, the Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee, and the Gender Equity Task Force. All three committees report to the NCAA Committee To Promote Cultural Diversity and Equity, which reports directly to the NCAA Board of Governors - the highest Association committee.

Spearheading efforts on the front line, the NCAA office of inclusion advances diversity, equity and inclusion in college athletics for over 1,100 member schools and athletics conferences. The office supports studentathletes and athletics departments in five core areas: disabilities, international backgrounds, the LGBTQ community, race/ethnicity and women. The office of inclusion also facilitates programming, provides educational resources, and advocates for diverse, equitable, and inclusive environments that enhance the student-athlete experience and provide opportunities for coaches and administrators.

The NCAA leadership development office directs education and empowerment programs for studentathletes, coaches and athletics administrators through transformative experiences that develop effective leaders, cultivate an inclusive community and enhance the college sports landscape. Leadership development focuses strategies on building, launching and advancing careers in athletics for student-athletes, administrators and coaches. The office is dedicated to developing diverse leaders to more proportionally reflect the diversity of student-athletes, sports and society.

Additionally, NCAA community engagement efforts advance IECE's strategic priority of inclusive external engagement through outcomes-driven community investment, academic grant programs for lowerresourced schools and the Historically Black Colleges and Universities Collaborative. Below are committees, initiatives, programs and scholarships/grants that highlight the NCAA's continued commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion:

NCAA Governance Committees, Task Forces and Working Groups

Division I Transformation Committee

In January 2023, the NCAA Division I Transformation Committee released its report, which represented the committee's year-long effort to create a roadmap for the ongoing transformation of Division I athletics. One area of focus for the Transformation Committee was the development of increased expectations for Division I members, which included an enhanced commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion and belonging. Specifically, the committee recommended a requirement that Division I member institutions must provide student-athletes with access to DEIB education and programming. Also, coaches must annually complete required DEIB education.

In addition, the committee recommended requiring institutions to employ at least one full-time staff member, with appropriate training, whose primary focus is on diversity, equity, inclusion and belonging. The NCAA Division I Board approved the Transformation Committee's recommendations in concept and directed the governance structure to develop associated legislative proposals for action. Members of the Division I Strategic Vision and Planning Committee will work with representatives from the NCAA's diversity equity and inclusion committees to deliver on that charge.

Board of Governors Committee To Promote Cultural Diversity and Equity

In August 2017, the NCAA Board of Governors unanimously approved the charter and composition for the NCAA Board of Governors Committee To Promote Cultural Diversity and Equity. The committee's charge is to review, endorse and make recommendations regarding diversity and inclusion matters that impact the Association. Specifically, the committee reviews and acts on recommendations from the NCAA Committee on Women's Athletics, the NCAA Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee, and the NCAA Gender Equity Task Force; receives information and explanations of Association-wide activities; reviews and acts on topics referred to it by the Board of Governors, and provides guidance to the Board of Governors on Association-wide matters of interest.

The committee has championed the NCAA Board of Governors Presidential Pledge and Commitment to Promoting Diversity and Gender Equity, including initiatives like the West Coast Conference's Bill Russell Rule that seek with intentionality to create a more diverse leadership in intercollegiate athletics that better reflects the increasingly diverse studentathlete population. In addition, the committee has been focused on equity in NCAA championships and across the Association by contributing to the implementation of recommendations from the external Gender Equity Review of NCAA championships. The committee has monitored progress on the NCAA Eight-Point Plan To Advance Racial Equity and has supported the USOPC and NCAA para-college inclusion project. The committee also worked on finalizing a new set of goals that will focus on diverse hiring in intercollegiate athletics.

Board of Governors Student-Athlete Engagement Committee

The Student-Athlete Engagement Committee was established by the NCAA Board of Governors in January 2017 to facilitate dialogue within the studentathlete community and to provide student input on Association-wide issues, policies and key initiatives. The committee comprises 11 members: three from each of the divisional Student-Athlete Advisory Committees, one from the Board of Governors and one from the Division I Council or Division II and Division III Management Councils. The committee primarily reviews and reacts to topics referred by the Board of Governors and provides comments to the board on Association-wide areas of interest.

Committee on Women's Athletics

The Committee on Women's Athletics has a mission to provide leadership and assistance to the Association in its efforts to provide equitable opportunities, fair treatment and respect for all women in all aspects of intercollegiate athletics. The committee seeks to expand and promote opportunities for female studentathletes, administrators and coaches. The committee promotes governance, administration and conduct of intercollegiate athletics at the institutional, conference and national levels that are inclusive, fair and accessible to women. Throughout 2021, the committee partnered with the NCAA Gender Equity Task Force to write a Gender Equity Principles and Recommendations document to guide the Association's efforts to achieve equity. In addition, the committee is contributing to the implementation of recommendations from the external Gender Equity Review of NCAA championships. The committee also oversees the NCAA Emerging Sports for Women Program and the Woman of the Year Award.

Division III LGBTQ Working Group

In 2016, the Division III Management Council endorsed the creation of a Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Questioning Working Group. The working group's charge is to examine the current LGBTQ landscape in Division III. Examination and research have led to the creation of several Division III LGBTQ OneTeam resources, including a nondiscrimination policy guide, a peer education program and branding items. Most recently, during the 2021 NCAA Convention, the working group held the inaugural Division III OneTeam Recognition Awards Program and honored a studentathlete, a coach and a university as Division III LGBTQ of the Year recipients. Three new recipients will be honored annually at the NCAA Convention.

Division III Diversity and Inclusion Working Group

At the 2015 NCAA Convention, the Division III delegates endorsed the creation of a Diversity and Inclusion Working Group. The working group's charge is to assess the current diversity and inclusion landscape within Division III, evaluate current initiatives and propose next steps (for example, resources, new initiatives, policies, etc.) to the membership. To date, this working group has assisted in the development of three new initiatives Page | 45 to diversify the division: Student Immersion Program; Institute for Administrative Advancement and the Senior Woman Administrator Program, as well as creating The Diverse Workforce guide. This guide is designed to help Division III schools fulfill their role in recruiting, selecting and retaining a diverse workforce. Division III, at the recommendation of the working group, has hired an outside consultant to develop a train-the-trainer program to assist institutions in recruiting and retaining student-athletes of color. As a reflection of its overall efforts with the start of the 2022 academic year, 33% of Division III athletics directors are women — the highest of any division in the Association. Eleven percent of athletics directors are individuals of color — an increase from 6% in 2014-15.

Gender Equity Task Force

The NCAA Gender Equity Task Force engages the membership, student-athletes, the governance structure and affiliate organizations in identifying gender equity strategies for goals such as increasing and supporting female student-athlete participation and women in leadership roles in intercollegiate athletics. The task force works closely with NCAA Association-wide membership committees, like the Committee on Women's Athletics, and reports regularly to the NCAA's Board of Governors and the Division I, II and III governance leadership.

The NCAA Board of Governors approved the Gender Equity Task Force's recommendations in April 2017. A major success that emanated from the task force's recommendations was Division I legislating a required diversity, equity and inclusion review by all member schools' athletics departments and conference offices every four years. During 2021, the task force partnered with the NCAA Committee on Women's Athletics to write a Gender Equity Principles and Recommendations document to guide the Association's efforts to achieve equity. In addition, the task force is contributing to the implementation of recommendations from the external Gender Equity Review of NCAA championships. The task force continues to partner with NCAA office of inclusion staff and other membership diversity, equity and inclusion committees to achieve related goals outlined in the recommendations. In 2022, the task force provided input on a Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Review Framework resource for the NCAA membership.

Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee

The mission of the Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee is to champion the causes of ethnic minorities by fostering an inclusive environment, thereby creating a culture that promotes fair and equitable access to opportunities and resources. Formed by the Association in January 1991, the MOIC reviews issues related to the interests and advocacy of student-athletes, coaches and administrators who are ethnic minorities, are LGBTQ or have disabilities. The committee examines and advocates for NCAA programs and policies that affect and include ethnic minorities, individuals with disabilities and the LGBTQ community. In 2019, MOIC proposed legislation in all three divisions that every athletics department and conference office would establish an athletics diversity and inclusion designee to serve as the primary contact and conduit for diversity-and-inclusion-related information between conference offices, campuses, athletics departments and the NCAA. In January 2020, the athletics diversity and inclusion designation was legislated within all three divisions. Since 2020, MOIC has continued to partner with the office of inclusion and other groups, such as RISE and the Minority Opportunities Athletic Association, to provide resources and programs for athletics diversity and inclusion designees.

National Student-Athlete Advisory Committees

The mission of the NCAA Division I, II and III Student-Athlete Advisory Committees is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by promoting opportunity, protecting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image. The national SAACs are made up of student-athletes from each division, assembled to provide insight on the student-athlete experience. Additionally, the SAACs offer input on the rules, regulations and policies that affect the lives of student-athletes on NCAA member campuses. In 2023, the three divisional SAACs collaborated with the Board of Governors Student-Athlete Engagement Committee to draft an open letter to NCAA studentathletes on mental health. The state of urgency surrounding mental health concerns for student-athletes is palpable on campuses across the country and backed by Association-wide data: The NCAA Student-Athlete Well-Being Survey showed rates of mental exhaustion, anxiety and feeling depressed were comparable in fall 2021 to the beginning of the pandemic. Mental health struggles can occur with a wide range of severity, depending on the impacted individual. Also of note, for the first time in NCAA history, the term "mental health" is included in the NCAA Constitution, which all member schools, conferences and divisions have agreed to uphold. This historic inclusion — initiated by SAAC members from each division — displays a strong commitment by the NCAA to its student-athletes' health, safety and well-being.

NCAA Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Initiatives

Accelerating Academic Success Program Providing opportunities for learning is at the heart of the NCAA's mission, and the Association holds schools accountable for the academic success of student-athletes by tracking academic progress. The NCAA provides support for lower resourced schools as they work to meet the NCAA's academic standards via the Accelerating Academic Success Program, which assists Division I schools as they develop programs and systems designed to increase graduation rates, support academic success and promote career and professional development for student athletes. Established in 2012 by the NCAA Executive Committee (which is now the Board of Governors), the AASP includes grants for eligible schools and student-athletes. The annual AASP Conference offers programming for administrators on a broad set of topics that will enhance their professional development, in addition to topics related to the academic success of college athletes.

Common Ground

The Common Ground initiative was established in 2014 to provide LGBTQ individuals and individuals of faith at public and private NCAA member schools, LGBTQ organizations and faith-based organizations an 2022 CSRGRC Continued... TID opportunity to discuss commonalities and differences and learn how to work more cohesively within athletics. The mission of the Common Ground initiative seeks to find practical ways for people of all faiths, sexual orientations and gender identities to participate in intercollegiate athletics programs that model respect for all. The Common Ground Leadership Team defines common ground as areas of agreement among different groups where no one's core values are compromised. While the pandemic forced the cancellation of the annual in-person Common Ground program, the Common Ground leadership team has used that time to reevaluate its vision, mission and strategic plan for future programming, as well as to add members to the leadership team.

Disability Guide

In November 2022 the NCAA office of inclusion released its disability guide, a three-part resource to support student-athletes with disabilities. Featuring sections on "Defining Disability," "Language Can Impact How Your Athletes Perform" and "Access and Accommodations for Student-Athletes With Disabilities," the disability guide highlights information on what it means for someone to have a disability, the importance and impact of using inclusive language, and guidance on how to ensure student-athletes with disabilities have access and reasonable accommodations to excel academically, athletically and in all aspects of their collegiate experience.

Diversity and Inclusion Social Media Campaign

The Diversity and Inclusion Social Media Campaign was first launched in 2018 in partnership with the NCAA Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee and national Student-Athlete Advisory Committees to provide an opportunity for student-athletes, coaches, and fans to use their platform to create a dialogue surrounding diversity, equity and inclusion. The goal of the campaign is to create awareness, education and engagement and to communicate the need for and benefit of developing inclusive environments on campus. The 2022 campaign garnered strong national participation trending #9 on Twitter during the first day of the campaign, and NCAA content generated 454,300 impressions across social media platforms.

Eight-Point Plan To Advance Racial Equity

In the summer of 2020, led by the NCAA Senior Management Team, the national office released the Eight-Point Plan To Advance Racial Equity, identifying eight action items to address racial justice and equity at the national office and within the membership. The goals of the action items are to provide tools that foster a culture that advances racial equity and improves ways to engage student-athletes, particularly students of color. Since the plan's inception, numerous programs on race, social justice, social responsibility and microaggressions, and bystander intervention have been provided for national office staff and the NCAA membership.

In spring 2021, an inclusive language guide was created for national office staff to use when reviewing national office policies, procedures and manuals and when creating new materials. The second edition of the guide was made available to staff in December 2021 and made available to the NCAA membership in spring 2022. The guide covers best practices for using language that intentionally avoids and defuses discriminatory biases.

In the fall of 2021, all national office staff participated in a required 90-minute unconscious bias training. In addition to the training, staff completed the Global Inclusion assessment and will have a year to complete other online modules. The training has been added as part of the onboarding process for new employees. A train-the-trainer program, Champions of Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Belonging (DEIB) was created in 2022. The Association engages and recognizes community and social justice efforts through the NCAA Legends and Legacy Awards, hosted during Men's and Women's Final Four events.

Emerging Sports for Women

The Emerging Sports for Women program was created in 1994 to grow meaningful intercollegiate sport participation opportunities for female student-athletes in sports that have the potential to reach the required number of varsity teams to be considered for NCAA championship status. NCAA legislation allows a National Collegiate Championship to be established in an emerging sport if at least 40 NCAA schools sponsor the sport at the varsity level. NCAA schools may use emerging sports to satisfy minimum sportssponsorship requirements for all divisions and minimal financial aid awards for Divisions I and II. If a school lists an emerging sport on its NCAA sports sponsorship and demographics form, that sport must follow all applicable NCAA rules. Since the Emerging Sports for Women program was established in 1994, five sports have earned NCAA championship status.

Currently, there are five emerging sports for women: acrobatics and tumbling, equestrian (Divisions I and II only), rugby, triathlon, and women's wrestling.

Inclusion Forum

The annual NCAA Inclusion Forum brings together leaders within higher education and intercollegiate athletics, including student-athletes, to engage in powerful programming and provide key takeaways to enhance efforts on diversity, equity, inclusion and belonging initiatives. Educational programming focuses on each of the office of inclusion's five core areas supporting initiatives related disability, international, LGBTQ, race/ethnicity and women, along with additional sessions on topics of intersectionality, belonging and well-being.

The 2022 NCAA Inclusion Forum, which took place virtually in June, gathered close to 3,000 registrants for three days of engagement on activism, diversity, equity and inclusion. Attendees engaged in programming that offered useful knowledge, engaging dialogue, and practical takeaways to empower efforts on equity, diversity and inclusion initiatives on their campuses.

The tenth-annual Inclusion Forum was themed: "It's Time: Delivering on Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Belonging." The 2022 event also featured a special celebration of Title IX's 50th anniversary, as well as engaging keynote sessions which included sports icon and champion of equality, Billie Jean King; basketball legend and NBA broadcast analyst, Candace Parker; disability rights advocate, Haben Girma and spoken word artist, Yorri Berry.

International Student-Athlete Inclusion

As part of a strategic plan to enhance inclusion efforts for international student-athletes, the NCAA office of inclusion conducted its first International Student-Athlete Inclusion Think Tank in 2021. The vital engagement of student-athletes, coaches, administrators and faculty members of more than 15 nationalities has helped the office of inclusion identify common challenges international student-athletes and those who lead them face, as well as potential solutions to address these challenges, both on the campus level and through the national office. As a direct outcome of the Think Tank and based on findings and conclusions, two new resources to support this population were produced in 2022. From specific actions steps for athletics department to important considerations for administrators/coaches, these resources suggest guidance and sound practices for anyone who works directly with international student-athletes.

NCAA/MOAA Award for Diversity and Inclusion

This annual national award represents a partnership formed by the NCAA and the Minority Opportunities Athletic Association to recognize and celebrate the initiatives, policies and practices of schools and conferences that embrace diversity and inclusion across the intercollegiate athletics community. Nominees are evaluated on their equity, diversity and inclusion efforts in the areas of leadership, infrastructure, evaluation and assessment, education, and collaboration. The annual award is presented at the NCAA Convention. Towson University received the award in 2021. The 2022 winner was Northern Illinois University. The Pacific-12 Conference, Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association and DePauw University received the 2022 honorable mentions.

NCAA Convention Programming

The annual NCAA Convention brings presidents, athletics directors, campus and conference administrators, and student-athlete leaders from all three divisions together to conduct business, share best practices for supporting student-athletes, discuss emerging issues in college sports, connect with peers, and honor the Association's best and brightest. A full slate of education sessions is offered on key issues for all members, such as diversity, inclusion, equity and belonging.

In 2022, the NCAA office of inclusion and leadership development office partnered with NCAA research and the Sport Science Institute to produce sessions including:

- Title IX Approaches 50 Years: Striving for Gender Equity in Intercollegiate Athletics
- Coping with Pandemics: The Effects of Racism and COVID-19 on Student-Athlete Mental Health
- Social Justice Activism
- NCAA Saluting Excellence Ceremony: 2022 Diversity and Inclusion and Ford Awards
- Racial Justice: A Historically Black Colleges and Universities Lens
- Cultivating, Recruiting, and Retaining Diverse Talent: Areas of Consideration
- Division III: Discover, Develop, Dedicate and Diversity in Division III
- Emerging Sports Presentation
- NCAA Leadership Development and E-Learning Programs Information Booth
- NCAA Title IX's 50th Anniversary Information Booth

Optimizing the Impact of the Athletics Diversity and Inclusion Designee

The NCAA office of inclusion has partnered with the NCAA Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee on initiatives to optimize the athletics diversity and inclusion designee. The ADID serves as the primary conduit of diversity and inclusion information from the NCAA to athletics departments or conference offices. The purpose of the designation is to help athletics departments and conference offices advance and sustain their diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives and support efforts to foster inclusive environments.

Resources to optimize the designation are available on the ADID webpage, which includes survey results, educational webinars and best practices. In 2022, the office of inclusion partnered with RISE and the Diversity, Inclusion and Equity Council of Excellence (DIECE) to provide virtual programming for ADIDs. RISE and the office of inclusion also conducted ADID focus groups in September 2022 to gain insight on the designation's successes, challenges and opportunities for growth. The information collected from the focus groups assisted in curating additional education opportunities and experiences for ADIDs.

Optimizing the Impact of the Senior Woman Administrator

The NCAA office of inclusion has partnered with the Committee on Women's Athletics, the Gender Equity Task Force, and the Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee on an initiative to optimize the senior woman administrator (SWA) designation. The SWA is the highest-ranking female in NCAA athletics departments and conference offices. The purpose of the SWA designation is to promote meaningful representation of women in the leadership and management of college sports. Efforts to optimize the designation are available on ncaa.org and include disseminating the results of a national research study on the SWA, educational resources that provide clarity about the designation and ways to optimize the role, video spotlights that feature successful SWAs, and division-specific best practices guides.

Presidential Pledge and Commitment to Promoting Diversity and Gender Equity in Intercollegiate Athletics

Launched in September 2016, the Presidential Pledge is a commitment from presidents and chancellors at NCAA member colleges and universities to establish initiatives for achieving ethnic and racial diversity and gender equity in college sports hiring practices. The pledge was developed out of a membership concern about the low representation of racial and ethnic minorities and women in coaching and athletics administration at all levels. To date, 78% of all schools and 73% of all conferences (94% of multisport conferences) have pledged their support, including the NCAA Board of Governors, whose 16 presidents and chancellors were among the first signatories. Women Leaders in College Sports also endorsed the pledge.

Woman of the Year

The NCAA Woman of the Year program was established in 1991 and honors the academic achievements, athletics excellence, community service and leadership of graduating female college athletes from all three divisions. In 2022, 577 female college athletes were nominated by NCAA member schools for the award. Karenna Groff, a former MIT soccer player who majored in biological engineering, was celebrated as the 2022 NCAA Woman of the Year.

NCAA Leadership Development and Education Basketball Coaches Academy

The NCAA Basketball Coaches Academy provides full-time intercollegiate basketball coaches at NCAA member schools an opportunity to expand their knowledge and insight into the world of intercollegiate basketball coaching. During the academy, selected participants will be trained in a variety of areas that encourage effective coaching at the intercollegiate level, with a focus on the holistic well-being and development of the student-athlete.

Career in Sports Forum

The Career in Sports Forum brings together selected NCAA student-athletes to learn about and explore potential careers in sports, particularly college athletics. This unique programming experience will help studentathletes chart their career paths, while presenting opportunities for attendees to learn from current industry leaders.

Notable speakers cover the following topics and more: self-awareness and its role in professional development; practical approaches to the sports job search; personal branding; developing a career plan; and managing yourself as a professional in the sports industry. Through panels, engaging breakout sessions, keynote presentations and facilitated discussions, program participants will complete their experience with a thorough understanding of athletics as a career path and where they fit into the industry's landscape.

Champion Forum

The Champion Forum provides current coaches with a unique and transformative professional development opportunity. Participants gain a realistic view of what it takes to become a head coach at the collegiate level. Throughout the academic year, NCAA leadership development staff execute three iterations of the program: Champion Forum for Football, Champion Forum for Men's Basketball and Champion Forum for Women's Basketball. High-performing, high-potential ethnic minority assistant coaches from these three sports who have been identified as rising stars in the industry will be selected to participate in this immersive educational experience. The Champion Forum prepares tomorrow's leaders in football and basketball, populating a talented pool of future head coaches primed to influence a vital shift in college athletics.

Division II Student-Athlete Advisory Committee Super Region Convention

The NCAA Division II Student-Athlete Advisory Committee Super Region Convention is intended to bolster student-athlete participation in the Division II governance structure and foster communication among SAACs at the campus, conference and national levels. The super region convention debuted in November 2017 as part of Division II's Foundation for the Future initiative. Since then, the program has been approved by the Division II governance structure to occur annually.

Student-athletes selected to attend the three-day program return to campus with invaluable leadership skills, ways to strengthen the student-athlete voice, an action plan to further promote mental health on campus, and knowledge of Division II student-athlete initiatives and the Make It Yours brand.

Dr. Charles Whitcomb Leadership Institute The Dr. Charles Whitcomb Leadership Institute provides tailored programming to assist ethnic minorities in strategically mapping and planning their careers in athletics administration by providing professional development programming over the course of a calendar year, which includes one-week programs at the beginning and conclusion of that year.

Combining in-person sessions, continuing education resources and the well-connected alumni group, participants not only enhance and master skill sets pertinent to their success in their current roles, but they also explore and plan to achieve future career aspirations. With a successful track record in producing the most influential leaders in college sports, the leadership institute provides participants with a transformational and empowering experience that will define their careers for decades.

Emerging Leaders Seminar

The Emerging Leaders Seminar provides leadership, educational and transitional programming for current graduate assistants and interns from NCAA member schools, conference offices and affiliate organizations. The three-day virtual program educates, develops and connects selected participants and equips attending young professionals with the skills necessary to accelerate their career progression in college sports. Learners walk away with valuable insight into college athletics and a refined understanding of professional paths within the industry. Additionally, participants will gain an expansive network of peers and industry leaders to call upon throughout their professional journey. Through this exposure, participants return to their current roles with applicable skills and knowledge that will help them succeed within their current and future roles.

Foundations of Fundraising With a focus on women and ethnic minorities, Foundations of Fundraising is a collaborative effort between the NCAA and the National Association of Athletic Development Directors designed to educate future leaders (interns, graduate assistants, development associates, etc.) in the field of development in intercollegiate athletics. The nine-week hybrid learning course was created so that learners will view development/fundraising as a viable career option with great advancement opportunities. Learners will walk away having an in-depth exposure and introduction into athletics development as a viable career path within college sports. Participation in the four-month hybrid program will provide essential career development to allow learners to thrive in their current roles while preparing them to obtain elevated positions in the industry. A key focus for curriculum content is the learner visualization of fundraising as a pathway to opportunity to access senior-level positions in college athletics, particularly as an avenue to ascend to the athletics director seat.

Leadership Collective

The NCAA Leadership Collective serves as a tool to progress toward an environment of diverse representation in collegiate coaching and athletics administration. The Leadership Collective is an interactive and user-friendly platform, which highlights the vast professional accomplishments of ethnic minorities within college sports through customizable, in-depth personal profiles.

The Leadership Collective encourages inclusive practices throughout the membership and demonstrates the NCAA's commitment to promoting cultural diversity and equity in college sports, in conjunction with the NCAA Presidential Pledge campaign. The Leadership Collective answers the commonly posed question, "Where can I find qualified ethnic minority candidates?" Through the showcase of the achievements of its users, the NCAA Leadership Collective helps NCAA member school and athletics conference executives diversify their talent lists and be more inclusive when making personnel decisions. The resource is used for hiring senior staff, making committee appointments, finding speakers and filling other related needs.

Learning Management System (e-Learning)

The Learning Management System is designed to provide electronic learning experiences for both NCAA staff and the membership. The LMS portal serves as a vehicle to deliver content surrounding certifications, attestations, professional development and virtual program delivery. The LMS also serves as a repository for learning materials and has the capability to track participant process.

NCAA-Athleda HBCU STEM Mentoring Program — ARISE

The NCAA and Athleda launched a partnership to sponsor a STEM mentoring program serving studentathletes at historically Black colleges and universities. The program, called Authentic, Resilient, Innovative Stem Excellence (ARISE), connects HBCU studentathletes with experts and professionals in science, technology, engineering and math fields to provide guidance, mentorship and insight about developing a successful career in STEM. The mentorship will follow a structured developmental curriculum that will enhance connection and allow participants to explore vast postgraduate career pathways in STEM. The mentorship program comes out of an analysis of metrics indicating a significant lack of representation of minorities and student-athletes in professional STEM roles. The pilot mentorship program will launch in the winter, with two HBCUs selected for student-athlete participation. Upon completion of the pilot launch in AY2023, the NCAA and Athleda will seek to expand to offer more campuses and student-athletes the mentorship opportunity.

NFL/NCAA Administrators Academy

The NFL/NCAA Administrators Academy assists graduate assistants and interns by expanding their capacity to perform in leadership roles within college and professional athletics administration.
